A picture that is distinguished by its breadth of theme and background came to the Strand theater Sunday for a week's engagement. It is "Behold My Wife." George Melford's latest production based upon Sir Gilbert Parker's thrilling story of the Canadian Northwest, "The Translation of a Savers."

age." The central characters are an Indian The central characters are an Indian girl and the aristocratic young Englishman who marries her in a moment of rage because of word that his fiancee back in England has thrown him over, due largely to his family's efforts. Determining to humiliate them, he sends his redskin bride overseas to them. Then he proceeds to go to the devil in his own way. However, dramaticevents bring about the regeneration of the man and the translation of the girl into a beautiful, cultured woman, and the ending is happy.

Mabel Julieene Scottis the heroine and Milton Sills portrays the part of the young Englishman. Elliott Dexter and Ann Forrest also have important roles.

Princess.

Norma Talmadge, in her fascinating characterization of Mary in "The Captivating Mary Carstairs," which is now playing at the Princess theater, is seen in one of those roles for which this popular star is noted. The story is a happy blending of romance and adventure, and it is the sort of production for which Miss Talmadge is most noted A capable supporting cast has been given the star, and several handsome settings placed in the production.

Majestic.

Dorothy Phillips, who capityated the theatergoers in "The Heart of Humanity," is taking a fresh grip on the public's heart in her current feature, 'Once to Every Woman," which is now on view at the Majestic theater. In the opinion of many her role of Aurora in this production marks the crowning achievement of her career. chievement of her career.

Lyceum.

Following as it does upon the heels of "Earthbound." "Polly with a Past" with heautiful Ina Claire in the title role, which opened a four-day engagement at the Lyceum Sunday, will continue the reputation of the theater for presenting pictures that appeal to enthusissts. The comedy is irresistible and provokes real laughter. This result is not accomplished, however, by any lower method of production.

The feature picture is an actual visualisation of David Belasco's genius, for it is a screening of the famous stage success of Miss Claire which led to her stardom. Feminine patrons will find much to enjoy for the gowns displayed are all that femininity could desire.
